

FROM SEEDS... TO FRUIT TREES. 10 YEARS & COUNTING.

2013 (January)

God placed this dream within my heart, amidst one of my life's seasons of private and personal suffering- Unexplained Infertility. Many times in life our ministry is born out of our misery; our dreams are born out of our disappointments. GCSCORED was no different. I firmly believe that God would not have placed this dream within my heart and entrusted GCSCORED's growth and development to me if I had my own children. God didn't place this dream within my heart and entrusted its growth and development to me because I had the skills, resources, networks, entrepreneurial experience, or business training, curriculum development, etc. to develop this non-profit organization. My choice was to be totally dependent on Him and to be fully available to Him so He could lead me and guide me as I was entering uncharted territory and the only way I would succeed would be total dependence on God's wisdom, grace, and direction.
